FATHER JARETT’S CATHOLIC Q & A

Do feast days like All Saints and the many others draw our attention away or distract us from really getting to know Jesus?

Claude Monet was a notorious 19th century impressionist painter who was most well-known for his colorful paintings of the beauty of nature as well as marvelous landscapes. Imagine entering a museum exhibit of Monet’s work and hearing someone ask the question, “What is it with all the nature paintings and the random landscapes? Where is Monet? I want paintings that show me Claude. Naturally, we might dispute such questions, because we know one of the best ways to get to know an artist is to study his or her artwork.

In the Catholic Church we believe that when we read about or focus on a particular saint's day, we do not take away from the glory of God, because all of creation is God’s artwork that tells us of His glory. People who stand and gaze for hours at the “Mona Lisa” do not take away from the glory of Leonardo DaVinci, but they give him praise by admiring his work. The same is true of the saints, who are especially beautiful artwork of the Creator.

Imagine an engaged couple who are completely and madly in love with one another. Imagine the young man speaking to his beloved fiancé, “I love you more than anything in this world. I love you more than life itself, in every way you complete my existence. I love you so much; in fact, I don’t want to meet your parents. Actually, I should also make it clear that your brothers and sisters are really none of my business, I only love you. Furthermore, I don’t care about your friends. Truth be told, I really have no desire to look at your old family photo albums or your high school year book. I would hate to lose this feeling of love that I have for you, so I will only focus my love on you and you alone.” Does this seem a little absurd, perhaps even a little twisted? As Catholics, we believe the best way to come to know and love Jesus Christ is to get His full story. To get to know His family, His friends, people that study Him and have been successful in following His teaching. We better come to know Jesus Christ through getting to know the saints.

Prayer directed toward the saints should be prayers of intercession. This means that these prayers are simply asking the saints to speak to Jesus Christ on our behalf. It is the same as asking your friend from bible study to pray for your grandma or grandpa. We intercede for each other all the time. Why would we not ask intercession of those we believe to be closest to Jesus Himself? In a few weeks when we celebrate the feast of All Saints, let us realize that we are not damaging our love for God, by learning about or praying through His beautiful works of creation; His saints.
